

Quick notes

Me Now, how do I introduce this? Quite from Paul Tournier,
There are two worlds, the impersonal world and the world of persons; not so much a world of things and a world of men, as a personal and an impersonal view of both men and things. Between these two worlds, there is an invisible frontier which is within ourselves, and it is very difficult to cross"
- Paul Tournier

We The point is... To strike the right course toward godliness with both attitude and action? Is there a way to communicate the Bible for holier living, at the feet of sinful actions?

God	John 7:53-8:11	Trans: what to do with the textual issues: Consistent with the early church Consistent with the nature of Jesus Clear: why some would want to eliminate it: looks bad if Jesus condones
	1 God	The ugly details/ The law said: Deut. 22:23-24; Lev.20:10
	2	From Jesus: a balanced perspective between naive and cynic
	3	From Jesus: a great demonstration of compassion, to see this young woman as a person
	4	From Jesus: a habit for forgiveness in a world of getting even.
	5	From Jesus: a recognition that the Christian life is meant to be lived holy.
	6 We	Postscript! What does this say about our own attitudes?
